

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I do not believe their action serves the public interest and in fact, does a disservice, essentially weakening the public's ability to make an informed decision about our democracy. I believe Sinclair is "obligated" to give equal air time to a pro-Kerry documentary.

The FCC is in place to protect and ensure our airwaves are used responsibly and serve the public interest. Sinclair is abusing our public airwaves and are clearly demonstrating the danger of media consolidation.

I believe your refusal to intercede in this matter is a failure to act upon your core mission.

Sincerely,
Carol Campos
